

ICO RING CONTINUOUS RULES

Ring continuous rules and style of fighting are basically the same as Light contact and Full contact.

The main difference is that it is fought in the ring and the POWER is NOT light and NOT full.

The power level is CONTROLLED SAFE STRIKES to the head ESPECIALLY FOR 15YRS AND UNDER, heavier contact to the body is allowed but NOT! for TKO or KO!

A standing count can ONLY be given to a fighter for poor conditioning, i.e a fighter not fit or in good shape! For the fight and NOT! For a knock down TKO or KO.

Warnings are 1 x verbal then YELLOW card Then RED card = disqualification but referee may use discretion and jump to any level he or her see fit.

The above warnings are for any foul breaking of rules or excess power.

A yellow card may result in a minus point should Referee deem fit!

Scoring is based on clean offensive hits to a legal target, but defence, ring craft, fitness, range of technique applied may also be taken into account.

The SCORING is on a 10-9 must system and offensive and defensive fighting is scored.

Winner of round will get 10 points.

Loser of round will get 9 points.

A drawn round will see 10 points each.

An 8 count for poor condition will result in a 8 point round for that fighter.

A minus point will reduce score accordingly.

Duration of rounds: Elimination style competitions.
